

WHAT'S NEW: SPRAY TO LOOSEN SOIL

A spray-on product promises to aerate and dethatch your soil without mechanical means and condition it at the same time.

LazyMan Liquid Gold contains polyelectrolytes and takes advantage of their opposing positive and negative electrical charges to loosen soil, allowing air, water and nutrients to enter more easily.

It also contains microbes to feed on the dead plant material that creates thatch, as well as soil conditioners consisting of kelp, humic acids (decomposed plant and animal matter) and mycorrhizae (fungi that help plants better absorb water and nutrients).

The product is available only at www.outsidepride.com.

Prices range from $34.99 for a quart – enough to cover up to 10,000 square feet – to $299.99 for 5 gallons.
